PRODUCE CONGER.

Minister Wu Has Faith in The Late News.

Will Undertake to Rescue The U. S. Minister and Get Him Through The Lines.

Washington, July 23.—The Emperor of China has made an appeal to the United States similar to that made to France. No answer has been made, but it is said the answer of France will not suit us. In fact, the United States stands alone in its policy. The United States believes the way is clear for an advance on Peking, and is determined, once relief is effected, to withdraw from China and leave the other Powers to their bickering. From China, material news is entirely lacking. The Chinese legation in London believes the rebellion to be dying out, and that negotiations will be promptly reopened. Lu Hung Chang has arrived at Shanghai. He is distrusted, and all the foreign Consuls refused officially to see him. Russia has declared a state of seige in the troubled district in Siberia, and has called out the reserves. Minister Wu has undertaken to have Minister Conger delivered to Admiral Remey at Taku, to prove that he is still alive.

THREE DIVORCE SUITS.

Two of Plaintiffs Allege Abandonment And Other Cruelty.

Jacob Cartright has sued for divorce from Dicia Cartright, alleging abandonment. They were married in 1873, but defendant, petition alleges, left her home seven years ago and plaintiff has not since heard of her.

Maggie Wilson has brought suit for legal separation from Cy Wilson. She charges abandonment, and in addition to a divorce, asks for the custody of their four-year-old son.

Carrie Coleman sues for divorce from Walter Coleman, alleging cruel treatment. They were married in the year 1897 and lived together only one year, the petition says.

WILL DARNELL DEAD.

Railroad Conductor Lost a Foot And Death Resulted.

Capt. Will Darnell, formerly of Trigg county, and well known in this city, died at his home in Murrefresboro, Illinois, as a result of an accident on a railroad. Capt. Darnell had been in the service of a railroad company as conductor for two years, and about three months ago he had the misfortune to lose a foot, which was crushed off by the front trucks of an engine. His limb refused to heal and blood poisoning finally set up, resulting in his death, after weeks of intense suffering. He had only been married a short while.

SOLD MILLING PLANT.

Pembroke Will Probably Have Electric Lights Soon.

Walter S. Bumpus has sold his milling plant at Pembroke to Chapman & Kerby, of Warren county. The purchase price was $3,500 cash. The new proprietors will take charge Sept. 1. Mr. Bumpus will continue to reside in Pembroke and is figuring on putting in an electric light plant at that place.

BECKAM NAMED.

Lexington Convention Completes Its Work at Daybreak.

Judge Robbins Was Chairman, Defeating Frank Penke.

Lexington, Ky., July 20.—The Democratic convention was called to order at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Allie W. Young. All the morning the advocates of Beckham had been standing out against the friends of all the other candidates. The Beckham men met last night and agreed on Judge J. E. Bobbins, of Mayfield, as their candidate for chairman of the convention.

All of the other candidates pooled their issues against Beckham and agreed on R. F. Peake, of Shelby county, as their candidate for temporary presiding officer.

Robbins was elected by a vote of 626 to 466 and the vote was made unanimous.

A large and disappointed audience was held all night at the pavilion. The convention had taken a recess at 4:30 till 8:30 p. m., expecting the committees to report in the evening and the convention to conclude under a brilliant illumination with the nomination of Beckham. But the committees on credentials and resolutions were unable to agree on their reports and the large audience was kept waiting in vain for the crowning events. The time was filled in with speeches, but while the entertainment was good in its way, it was not what was expected. It was almost midnight when the committee on credentials finally came in with a majority and minority report.

The majority report favored the seating of the Beckham delegates in Kenton county, while the minority report signed by three members thought the Tarvin crowd was right.

An hour's discussion followed and it was clearly shown that Tarvin had the right side and enough Beckham men voted for the minority report to seat Tarvin's delegates. This reduced the vote cast for Robbins to 603 votes, but in no wise endangered Beckham's nomination, as Judge Lewis had gone home after turning over to him nearly 50 votes in the Third district.

This matter being disposed of the platform adopted and the temporary organization made permanent, the nominating speeches began at 2 a. m.

Charlie Wheeler nominated Beckham, Owsley Stanley named Black and B. F. Grazian spoke for Tarvin. There were several seconding speeches and the call of counties began, but was never concluded. It became evident that Black would have about 350 votes, Tarvin 50 and Beckham the rest. Both names were withdrawn and the nomination of Beckham made unanimous. Lewis and Smith were not voted for.

Then followed a wild scene in the hall while Gov. Beckham was being escorted from the rear of the platform to the footlights. Gov. Beckham in accepting the nomination said he appreciated the honor the more since the endorsement of his acts in a trying time.

Gov. Beckham concluded and was greeted with an ovation on the platform and one of those congratulating him had a rooster perched upon his shoulder.

It was a queer coincidence that the cocks were crowing at that time in the vicinity of Woodland Park where the convention was held and that the next thing done was the adoption of the rooster as the party emblem.

Although the convention for over seven consecutive hours had been for the most part listening to speeches, yet it proceeded to call out the defeated candidates, and Judge Black addressed the convention at some length.

Judge Tarvin, as the last speaker, humorously referred to the sunrise of nature that greeted the sunrise of another Democratic campaign; and that it was time to adjourn for breakfast, and the convention at 3:40 a. m. adjourned.

The delegates did not retire, but enjoyed themselves in all sorts of freaks about the city until they took the morning trains for their "Old Kentucky homes."

The Organization Committee reported in favor of continuing the temporary organization. It recommended that the party rules adopted at the recent State convention in Louisville be adopted as the rules governing the party, with the exception, however, that when disputes arise as to who is entitled to a nomination in any congressional, railroad or judicial district, it shall be the duty of the State Central Committee to investigate the matter and determine which of the claimants is entitled to the nomination; and the decision of the State Central Committee shall be final. Similar contests for county or legislative offices shall be investigated and disposed of by the County Committee, or, where a district embraces more than one county, by the County Committees embraced by the district; and such decision shall be final and binding on the claimants.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM!

Adopted by the State Convention at Lexington.

We, the Democrats of Kentucky, in convention assembled, do make the following declaration of principles:

First, we heartily indorse the platform enacted by the National Democratic Convention at Kansas City on July 4, 1900; also the splendid ticket named by said convention, and pledge the Democracy of Kentucky to an earnest, cordial and active support of said ticket. The entire history of the Democratic party has demonstrated that it has always been the champion and defender of the rights of the great common people; that it has ever insisted that the will of the majority shall control and that the minority must cheerfully and willingly acquiesce therein. It has always advocated and still does so thoroughly that the most hypercritical can find no excuse for charging fraud or unfairness to any party in the conduct of any election.

We recommend that the election law of 1898, which was enacted to prevent the repetition of Republican frauds in certain districts of the State, and which was a marked improvement upon the then existing law, but which has not proved sufficient for that purpose, be amended so as to secure this end so thoroughly that the most hypercritical can find no excuse for charging fraud or unfairness to any party in the conduct of any election.

Until such amendments can be enacted by the General Assembly, we declare that the Republican party shall have representation upon both the State and all county boards of election commissioners.

We present the people of Kentucky the picture of an army of intimidation, unlawfully quartered in the public buildings of the State; a State Senator, while in the discharge of his duty to the State, stricken down by an assassin's bullet, fired from ambush from the Executive building, then occupied by his political adversary, who hoped to profit by his death; that adversary arming, filling and surrounding the building with armed men instructed to defy the civil authorities and prevent search for the assassin; the same political adversary and Republican pretender by force dissolving the Legislature in violation of the Constitution; attempting by military power to force the Legislature to meet in a veritable slaughter pen for the Democratic members; driving its members through the streets of Frankfort at the point of the bayonet; forcibly preventing the Legislature from meeting in its lawful and proper place; keeping armed, riotous and disorderly men under the very window of the room where lay dying the assassin's victim; driving the Court of Appeals from the Capitol; by military force defying the writ of habeas corpus; aiding with the soldiery and spurious pardons those lawfully accused of capital crimes to flee from justice; the same Republican pretender fleeing from the State after indictment and remaining a fugitive from justice, protected by an open violation of the Constitution of the United States, after having declared to the people of the State, "I am a citizen of this State, amenable to its laws. I am not a criminal, neither shall I ever be a fugitive from justice. Whenever indicted I shall appear for trial."

And we confidently declare our belief that a majority of people in Kentucky favor the preservation of law and order; of both civil and personal liberty, and the maintenance of the constitutional rights of the people—Democratic doctrine which is the hope and inspiration of every true Democrat.

We denounce the action of Gov. Wm. O. Bradley in using and personally commanding the military force of the State to control the election, and intimidating the voters at the election of 1899 in violation of the Constitution and laws of the Commonwealth.

The Democratic party expresses the deepest and sincerest grief over the untimely end of its distinguished leader and friend of the great common people, Gov. William Goebel. His name and fame will remain a sacred heritage of the Democrats of Kentucky.

We earnestly invite the support, by voice and vote, of every sincere lover of civil and personal liberty, to join with us in this campaign against the forces gathered under the banner of government by assassination. The true manhood of Kentucky can not and will not indorse the assassin's means to obtain possession of office, and we appeal to every Democrat and every good citizen of Kentucky to unite with the Democratic party and to express his detestation of the foul crime.

We declare to the world that the mob and the assassin shall not be the arbiters of the rights of the citizens of Kentucky, nor shall the penalty of an appeal to the law and the regular constituted authorities be left at the hands of the authorities of the assassin. Law and order must and shall prevail in Kentucky.

We indorse the administration of Gov. J. C. W. Beckham, and point with pride to his submission and steadfast fealty to the law during the most troublesome, exciting and perilous days of the Commonwealth.

ville papers, did not materialize, at the Lexington convention. It was planned to remove him for supporting Black for Governor, but the proposition met with so little encouragement that no one could be found to father the scheme. Although Black had only 27 of the 117 votes, Mr. Meacham was re-elected by acclamation for the fifth time.
Mr. J. T. Griffith, the State Central Committee man, also a supporter of Judge Black, was likewise re-elected for the third time. The effort to create disaffection did not originate with the delegates from Christian county, none of whom reached Lexington until about an hour before the district convention met. It was evidently instigated by parties not delegates from the counties of the Second district.

The Democratic platform recommends that the election law be made still more non-partisan in its operation. Although the law does not provide for Republicans on the boards, they have been given representation on every county board.
The convention goes further and recommends that a Republican be placed on the State Board. These features will be added to the law whenever the opportunity comes and other objections removed. The plan submitted by the Courier Journal to recommend changes amounting to a repeal of the law found few friends on the Resolutions Committee. Kentucky is a Democratic State and there is no reason why the Republicans should be allowed to steal elections in any county of the State. Under the old law the elections in Republican counties were notoriously unfair and the only way to have honest elections in Kentucky is to make it impossible for Republicans to perpetrate frauds.

The Democrats of the State have met in convention, formulated a state platform and nominated a candidate for Governor. In our opinion a stronger candidate than Gov. Beckham could have been selected, but if a mistake was made it is now too late to correct it. The nominée is fortunate in having the national ticket to assist him and give confidence in the result. The KENTUCKIAN today places at its mast-head the name of the party's candidate for Governor.

Drew W. Standrod, the Republican nominee for Governor of Idaho, is a native of Caldwell county, Kentucky. He is a son of Dr. Stand-rod, of Wallonia, and became a Republican after going west. The Republican convention last week nominated him by acclamation.
Standrod is a young man about 40 years of age and is well remembered in this section. He taught school before going to Idaho and was recognized as a very bright young man.

Uncle Sam will have 3,700 regulars in China by the last of this week under command of Gen. Chaffee. The international rescue column of 150,000 men is expected to start from Tien Tsin to Peking, a distance of about 100 miles, on August 15. If the ministers are alive they must manage to keep alive for a month longer before they can be rescued.

Prof. J. J. Watkins will be Senator John A. Beal's successor in the Senate from Union and Henderson counties. He was formally nominated Saturday. The special election will be held August 6. In the Boone county district Dr. J. W.
Furth will be succeeded by a young lawyer named S. W. Tobin, who has been nominated by the Democrats.

Judge Jas. P. Tarvin, who did some very foolish things last year, in a great measure reinstated himself by his speech in the convention, defending his delegation. His argument was conservative, convincing and well presented. His statements bore the impress of truth and won a favorable decision from delegates opposed to him.

Gen. P. W. Hardin is back from a visit to his son Rev. Martin Hardin, who is at Lake Minnetonka,

UNDER MODERN GUN FIRE.

Donations That Came Over the Soldier in the Battlefield.

One of the most vivid accounts of a battlefield under modern conditions reaches the public through the medium of a private letter from one of the war correspondents of the London Daily News:

As regards my own feelings in a fight they are very hard to describe; I know when the thing is all over and I am all right I feel much happier.
Any man who has been in a modern fight, where men are being knocked over all around, and says he likes it, is a liar. In former days it must have been different. The enemy could be seen, the smoke could be seen, and the rifle had to be reloaded after every shot. At 1,000 yards you were in comparative safety. The infantry, after receiving one volley, could charge, knowing that until the enemy had loaded again each man was practically safe. Nowadays, that is all changed. Nothing is seen—no man, no smoke. The only thing seen is the dust thrown up by the bullets, like a rainstorm on the surface of a lake, the artillery throwing shells, and the shells bursting. In contrast to this is the noise, which is infernal, with occasional dull it sounds as if a million kettle-drums were being played—a constant tra-ra-ra-ra, with the boom, boom of the big guns and harsher sound of the pumping of the muzzles, hotchkiss, maxim-nordenfeldts, and machine-guns in general.
The discord is appalling, as every gun has a different sound, and each shell going through the air hums or whistles according to its breed. After a time you can tell what is coming, or, if it is one of your own, what is going.

The most terrifying of the enemy's guns is a sort of hotchkiss, which fires about five rounds a time, and throws a one-pound shell, which bursts. You are safe nowhere, as a bullet fired at an object at 800 yards which misses hits and kills at 2,000 or 3,000. It practically means with these rifles that a bullet is never spent until it hits something and remains there.

When a bullet strikes you hear nothing; it goes right through a man and probably travels on another 2,000 yards. You hear a grunt or a gurgle, and the man collapses and doubles up; sometimes if hit in the arm or leg he spins round and falls, and probably gets up again, as it is only the shock which knocks him down, and he hardly feels it. At Modder river I went down with three guns of the Eighteenth battery to within 1,300 yards, and saw five men go over, one after the other, but only one killed.
The worst thing is a bullet wound in the stomach below the navel, which is mortal. The pain is excruciating, and they howl like a child screaming, and is horrible. But you see such a lot of heart-rending sounds that you become accustomed to it and callous.

AUTOMATIC MACHINERY.

Not Taken to Kindly by the Peasantry of Russia.

An incident has recently come under our notice which suggests that while our industrial success results largely from the invention of automatic machinery, it is also due to the readiness with which the American workman appreciates its value and the alacrity with which he makes haste to furnish himself with the very latest labor-saving improvements. We all remember how, during the great strike in the English engineering districts, it transpired that one of the chief grievances of the men was the introduction of automatic tools into the machine shops—the trades unions claiming the right to regulate the amount of output from each machine. That opposition, of course, was based upon the exploded theory that labor-saving machinery was inimical to the interests of labor.
The prejudice was not against the machine, but against its supposed economic results.

Now, however, it appears that in some districts in Europe there is a positive prejudice against automatic mechanical devices as such, the laborer preferring to work by hand.
The Russian peasant favors such automatic machinery as comes nearest to the hand operations to which he has been accustomed from time immemorial, and, as a matter of choice, in many cases, he will perform laborious operations on the machine rather than accept one which ignores hand labor altogether. A correspondent informs us that so pronounced is this prejudice, that he is designing an automatic harvester which will conform to the time-honored habits of the people with as little sacrifice as possible of its automatic features—

MANSION AND MUSEUM.

The Palace of Prince Roland Bonaparte in Paris.

Prince Roland Bonaparte recently opened for a charity kindness his new home in Paris, which has been seven years in building and which is one of the most interesting private residences in the world. This palace has two characteristics to mark it off from the ordinary luxurious dwelling; it is the workshop of a wealthy scholar and it is a museum of relics of the Bonapartes. A beautiful piece of architecture, it stands on the terrace near the Trocadero, overlooking the Seine.

Its central hall, open to the roof, is supported on 12 columns of green marble, with capitals of bronze, and is crowned with a stained-glass dome, while around it unrolls the staircase, with ramp of forged iron, and the imperial crown in gilded bronze, cut at the second story by a balcony. This vestibule holds the busts of all the Bonapartes, including that of Napoleon I., by Canova. A part of the first floor is occupied by an ethnographic museum, collected by the prince himself.

The second floor has a suite of historic drawing rooms; one in white and gold dominated by Garnier's portrait of Napoleon I., in 1808; one in light blue, whose furniture belonged to Lucien Bonaparte; another in red silk, whose furniture belonged to Princess Eliza. The dining-room is a masterpiece, with its green hangings, the color of the empire; its woodwork of sculptured mahogany, with mountings of gilded bronze; its great chimney piece of white marble, guarded on each side by a bronze grenadier of Napoleon's army, sculptured after Raffet, and its great empire table of mahogany and gold bronze.

Not the least part of this incomparable dwelling is the library. It is in four galleries, surrounding a court, each 42 yards long, and is in superb sculptured woods, with a forged-iron and gilt-bronze balcony at half-height. Upon a table lie the death mask of Napoleon I., the skull of Charlotte Corday and other precious relics. One of the galleries is closed off to serve as the prince's study.—Chicago Daily News.

THE MULTIPLEX TELEPHONE.

Invention That Will Solve the Difficulties of the Party Lines.

Announcement has been made of an invention which may, if it proves a success, revolutionize the telephone system the world over.

It is a multiplex telephone, upon which several conversations may be carried on at one time, and the inventor is Ernest A. Fallor, San Francisco.

If the device will do what its inventor claims for it it will prove of great value. In brief, Mr. Fallor claims that his invention will enable subscribers who are on a "party line" to call the central station without signaling their neighbors' telephones. While one subscriber is using the line another may also make use of it. One subscriber on a party line will be able to hear what anyone else is saying over the wire, unless he has been summoned, or, in other words, overstepping on a party line will be impossible. In addition, Fallor claims that his device, when applied to a long-distance telephone, will enable persons along the line to use it at the same time that persons at the two terminals are using it.

The simplicity of the scheme is its chief beauty. Fallor says that by his instrument he can so energize one receiver that it will receive impulses from another which is similarly energized, and from no other, even though five or other instruments on the same wire are being used for five other conversations. Just as one tuning fork will vibrate in sympathy with another of the same pitch, so will his receiver only respond to the impulses sent from the transmitter, which is adjusted to the same tension. His device will accomplish this, he believes, and it will be so constructed that any telephone can be "tuned" to a party at a moment's notice.—N. Y. Journal.

Power of Berlin Police.

In Berlin the police authorities control many little things about which the police of American cities would not concern themselves more in a thousand years. Three courts decided recently that if the Berlin police judged any particular color scheme of a house to be improper or too gaudy or in bad taste otherwise they could order the painter to change it.

The Saving of Money

by the use of Royal Baking Powder is considerable. Royal is economical, because it possesses more leavening power and goes further.

Royal saves also because it always makes fine, light, sweet food; never wastes good flour; butter and eggs.

More important still is the saving in health. Royal Baking Powder adds antidyptic qualities to the food.

There is no baking powder so economical in practical use, no matter how little others may cost, as the Royal Imitation baking powders almost invariably contain alum. Alum makes the food unwholesome.

JEFF J. WATKINS

Nominated for Senator in the Henderson-Union District.

Morganfield, Ky., July 20.—Jeff J. Watkins was nominated today by the Democracy of Union county as the nominee for senator in the senatorial district composed of Henderson and Union counties, to succeed the late Senator John Bell. The Democrats held precinct conventions and Watkins defeated Hiram McElroy about two to one. The Democratic committee will tabulate the vote tomorrow and certify it to the committee of Henderson county for ratification.

Mr. Watkins is about thirty-five years of age and unmarried. He is a school teacher by profession, of excellent moral character, and ambitious. He favors an amendment of the election law so as to make it wholly nonpartisan. He is a believer in the single gold standard, but has never left his party on that account, but has always remained loyal, taking an active interest in behalf of his party in all contests.

Longview School.

The Longview school, taught by Miss Nettie Edmunds, will begin the fall session next Monday July 30.

J. MAT ADAMS.

L. & N. Agent Succeeded by C. E. Miller of Illinois.

Mr. J. Mat Adams, for ten years the local agent of the L. & N. road, has been succeeded by Mr. C. E. Miller, of Muscatine, Ill. The change is said to be due to the recent Fishbeck trouble. A young man named Fishbeck was sent here to fill a place in the office and a few weeks ago he was caught robbing the office. The amount lost by his dishonesty was about $240 and Mr. Adams was asked to make this good. He declined, claiming that he was not responsible for Fishbeck's appointment, and was not informed of his real character. Some hot letters passed and Mr. Adams closed his last one by asking that be relieved from duty. This was done.

Mr. Miller, the new agent, is a young man of considerable experience and comes well recommended.

Mr. Adams has been the most popular agent the L. & N. has ever had here and the company has few if any better men in its employ. He will remain here for a month or two resting up and in the fall will resume the railroad business somewhere else. He has already received an offer from a Western road at $150 a month. It is more than likely that he will be reinstated by the L. & N. and transferred to some position that will come in the nature of a promotion.

Crowds Throng the House Galleries When Congressmen Charles E. Littlefield Is Stated for a Speech.

Rarely does a congressman ascend to rostrum to prove himself to the people of the country as rapidly as the newest member of the delegation from Maine, Charles E. Littlefield—the late Nelson Hingley's successor. It was when Mr. Littlefield first appeared on the floor of the house that he was large and strong physically, and now, after his speeches on the question of restoring British rule in Cuba and imposing a tax on Porto Rico's commerce with the states, it is observed that Mr.

CHARLES E. LITTLEFIELD.
(Congressman Who Has Achieved Fame Within Three Months.)

Littlefield is a large, strong man mentally.

Mr. Littlefield, who is 40, began at an early age to prove himself with money by his own toll. At 13 went to sea and there earned his first dollar laboriously. Later he became a carpenter, and he was earning four dollars a day when he decided to study law. His professional education was based on a common school education—all he ever got. As a lawyer he worked 14 or 15 hours every day but Sunday, and for 15 years his schoolroom reached home in the evening before the rest of his family were asleep. Sundays he usually went with his wife to a Congregational church in his home town of Rockland. He became a state representative, speaker of the Maine house, attorney general of the state and Mr. Dingley's successor at Washington.

Naturally, says the Chicago Record, Mr. Littlefield thinks that the chief secret of his success is work, but he admits that his working day of 14 hours was made possible by health and power of endurance. He has been a total abstainer all his life, and he "chews" only the spruce gum of his native state. He says he has found more robust in saving and investing money well than in earning it. He has a higher estimate of married men than of bachelors, and his sympathy goes out to the lawyer in congress who is trying to preserve his practice and at the same time do his full duty to his constituents.
